What is the Oklahoma Food Cooperative?

The Oklahoma Food Cooperative is an internet-based marketing network of farmers and their customers that can bring authentic local and regional foods, crafts, and household products to your family table. All items sold through the cooperative are grown or produced here in Oklahoma, and they are sold by their producers.

Our system works on a monthly cycle. The online ordering system always opens the first day of the month. The order always closes the second Thursday of the month. Delivery day is always the third Thursday.

Spend some time on our website reading the customer handbook, downloading the membership brochure, and reading through the current month's offerings. When you've decided to join, fill out the on-line membership application at our website (click on BASICS, then JOIN).
